Hi Rebecca,

The defense attorneys have filed discovery motions in these cases requesting your case file and also copies of any written protocols or standards that you are required to follow. One of them has also requested that the lab equipment be "made available" for inspection. I know you can provide the case file, are there any written protocols etc? What do you think about the defense being able to come to the lab (which I doubt would actually happen)?

Thanks,
Melissa
